

Maximizing Results for Personal Injury Victims

A Different Kind of Personal Injury Law Firm

The trial attorneys at Rapoport Law Offices exclusively focus on a select number of serious personal injury and wrongful death cases. This allows the Rapoport Law Office trial team to devote all of their time, energy, and resources to providing personalized service and delivering maximum results for their clients. The firm's lawyers are proven negotiators and experienced litigators who never lose sight of their clients' welfare.

Rapoport Law Offices' attorneys represent victims of negligence and their families in lawsuits arising from aviation negligence, commercial truck and motor vehicle negligence, construction and workplace safety negligence, medical negligence, and product liability. The firm's recent victories include a $13 million settlement in a semi-tractor-trailer crash in Indiana, a $9.858 million verdict in a medical malpractice case in Chicago, and a $6.9 million settlement on behalf of victims of a truck crash in Wisconsin.

Founding partner David E. Rapoport has been obtaining multi-million dollar verdicts for clients for over two decades. Mr. Rapoport has represented victims in over a dozen commercial airline disaster cases. His legal work on behalf of victims of airline disasters began following the 1989 United Air Lines DC-10 crash in Sioux City, Iowa where he represented nine members of the crew in their product liability cases. He has published numerous professional articles and serves on the Board of Directors for the National Board of Legal Specialty Certification (NBLSC), a non-profit organization which certifies attorneys who have proven to be qualified in their areas of practice.
